

Lunch and Learn about FASD: How to Provide Effective Support

March 18 at the Gallagher Centre in Yorkton and March 19 at the Art Gallery of Prince Albert in Prince Albert 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

Free luncheon meeting with Brandi Kowerchuk (the same in both locations), providing concrete strategies and approaches when offering direct support to individuals and families living with Fetal Alcohol Spectrum Disorders.

Who should attend: Those who offer direct support to individuals and families living with FASD. This event will be of interest to Mentors, Group Home Workers, Educational Assistants, Child Care Workers and other front line professionals.

Brandi Kowerchuk has been a member of the FASD Speakers' Bureau since 2007. She has worked with the Battlefords Early Childhood Intervention Program for the past ten years and also works with Eagles Nest Youth Ranch. Brandi is currently completing her third year of the University of Regina Social Work Program. She has supported many children and families who are living with an FASD and enjoys sharing information about Fetal Alcohol Spectrum Disorders. Brandi has two children, Keelan(13) and Luke (6).
